No. 4

P.O. Box 2715, Wenatchee, WA 98807

November 2012

With autumn bringing its first chilly nights we can once again wrap ourselves in the warmth of another quilted year. A patchwork of activities, retreats, programs, workshops, quilt shows, shop hops and sew days has been stitched together with laughter and friendship. The NCW Quilt Guild membership once again stepped forward with an abundance of creativity, hard work, and generosity with time and materials to make it all possible. Even the uncertainties of the venue availability and the smoke filled valley did not slow the momentum of this dynamic group when it comes to putting on a successful quilt show. The positive energy of so many people working together under the stellar leadership of Linda Riesterer and Louise Brown is truly inspiring. Thanks to everyone who has participated in both small and great amounts to make this year the success it has been.

I am honored to have had the opportunity to serve as your President in 2012. It was a welcome positive activity to counterbalance the health challenges I faced this year with breast cancer treatments. I would like to offer special thanks to Jill Theriault, Tina Whitley, and Judy Preston as officers for their input and dedication throughout the year to support me and the guild; and thanks too for the committee chairs and support volunteers for all their good work.

As the new year approaches Jill Theriault will be taking up the reins of leadership. Officer and committee hats are being passed around and placed on different heads. There are always seats available at different committee tables, so I invite our members to consider volunteering in a new or different role in 2013. Together we can stitch a new quilt year pattern for the guild that continues to nurture each other's creativity and preserves the traditions and culture of quilting in our community.

Wishing you a joyous holiday and a New Year filled with blessings and delight.

Ann Baye
NCWQG President

Dan Lassard won the Pineapple
Salsa Raffle Quilt!

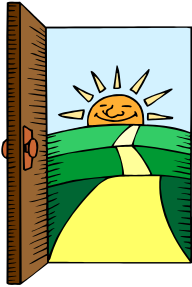

I saw Ros having her picture taken next to her quilt. She said she was excited to take it home because she had just finished it and hadn't had a chance to use it yet. When the raffle was drawn I overheard her say she had sold the winning ticket!

Letter from Ros MacIsaac:

This is "To My Heart's Delight". It has lots of little hearts on it. I looove sleeping under it. It's on our bed and it's a thrill to see it. Warms me even when I'm not under it. And yes I did sell Dan (Lassard) his raffle tickets... he only bought two. That was fun. He was the first tickets I sold, too. He fixes and inspects water valves and I had him doing our yearly inspection and a captive audience. He's a great guy to visit with.

QUILTS GOING UP ON BARNES ACROSS KITTITAS COUNTY

(Ellensburg) Daily Record

ELLENSBURG — A small nonprofit group has a big, colorful dream: to install large, brightly-painted square panels of quilt blocks on 35 to 40 Kittitas County barns by this spring.

So far, the group has been successful in getting two barn quilts up, each wood panel measuring 4 by 4 or 8 by 8-feet, and a third went up privately in cooperation with the group, said Jacky Fausset of Cle Elum, president of the Barn Quilts of Kittitas County board.

"We have gotten overwhelming positive support for the project from almost everyone who hears about it," said Fausset in emailed comments.

The first quilt artwork went up in early October and will be part of the state's first-ever barn quilt trail, a self-guided tour that, hopefully, will attract tourists, Fausset said. "Barn quilt trails in other counties have been very successful in attracting 'agri-tourists' and having a positive economic impact on local business."

Barn owner Randy Grant, top, and Tommy Wilmart, with T&T Electric, work to install a barn quilt on a barn at the Yakima River RV park in Ellensburg last Friday.

This article was published in the Wenatchee World, October 31st. I'm so excited to see Washington get it's first Quilt Trail! And right in our "backyard". It will be a fun outing to hunt for these blocks on the country roads. Let's create a trail in Chelan County!

We asked Guild members, "Are you working on handmade holiday gifts? Who do you make these for? When did you start?" Several members replied:

Claudia Olson-I am making towels for my kids, whose kitchen towels look embarrassingly thread-bare. I am making the sort that you buy at Craft Warehouse and add a border strip to. I've finished the fall ones and am now starting the winter ones. I'm also embroidering leaves on one corner of the big square tea towels for them both. They are turning out awesome! I started in September, 'cause these things take time.

Anne Dent-I am making place mat sets for my daughters. I started these last Nov. and didn't get them done in time for last C-mas. LOL I am thinking of making necklaces for my grand daughters, as I just learned wire wrapping. For the boys, I don't know yet LOL. Two of them are Lego ages.

Jill Therriault-Am I working on handmade Holiday Gifts? Do I breathe Air? Of Course! I am making Garment bags- took the pattern from a plastic one I got years ago from Nordstrom. They are pretty easy, though they do require a very long zipper (I use the continuous one they sell at Joann's), but they use up all kinds of extra quilt binding! And they look nice for traveling. I am always making new table runners with Christmas motifs. This year will include Christmas balls in wool and Holly leaves! On the cooking side; Habenero Jelly, Candied Walnuts and Pumpkin Anything!

Wilma Delp shared this story during our September Guild Show and Tell. This is her Christmas project:

Pillow gift: Finding a gift for older siblings who have everything they need has always been a difficult journey for me. This Christmas my sister and brother will receive a pillow made from our father's wool bathrobe. It was a robe his mother had made for him and my mother had mended many times. We three kids took turns sitting on that scratchy robe sharing Dad's peanuts and sips of beer. Because of its well used condition it was difficult to find useable yardage for three pillows.

I embellished the pillows with small pieces of wool from quilt shops and a wool coat I had found at the Goodwill. Then, using crazy quilt stitches, I embellished the word "HOME" and added a few beads. The back of the pillow has a zippered pocket in which I stuffed old time toys (a paddle with a ball on a long rubber band, jacks, and balsa wood gliders. Also included in the pocket is a short letter of childhood memories and photos of the past.

This project took me several months because I had to search for supplies, decide how to make it, make three pillows and then I had to fit the project around many other projects and classes already in the works. If I were to make one pillow with no interruptions including the beading and crazy stitches, it could be completed in about twenty hours; more or less.

Problem Solved: Thread Catchers!

Do you find knots of thread at the start of each 1/4 " seam allowance? Jill Therriault taught us a neat trick at the Sew-In to correct this problem. Jill actually solves two dilemmas. We forgot to bring bags to tape next to our machines for thread scraps. Jill said, "You don't need a bag if you use a Thread Catcher" And she tossed a selvedge edge she had just cut over to us-"Here, use this". If you take a small scrap of fabric @3" x 1" and insert it under the needle after you finish your seam, the scrap will save your place, and make the next seam stitch smoothly. No lifting the presser foot, no dragging the threads up to the cutter, no dangling threads on each end to trim. And you'll have clean seams at both ends. And, no messy threads to sweep up. Thanks Jill!

Members' Corner Things to Buy, Sell, Trade

Gammill Long Arm for sale. It is a Classic and comes with extra tools, a bobbin winder, needles and lots of bobbins. I'm asking $8,000. It has had very little use and Andrew says it's in perfect shape. He has gone over it and tuned it up. It is on a 12 foot table and can handle the Statler Stitcher. Please contact Claudia Olson 393-9438.

Looking to buy! A Walnut Cracker- The kind that cracks from end to end, not the kind you hold in your hand. They usually sit on the table and have a large handle you pull over to crack the nut. If you are done with walnuts and have one, I would like to buy it. Jill Therriault 509-663-9165.

Sew In 2012

This year the sew-in was on Halloween and we had a fun time making the 9-patch "disappear". With cute Bunnies and Black Cats ironing the work went quickly until the scissors became haunted and nearly took out Jill! But the treat table was laden and the pumpkin soup divine, and Trick or Treaters came and had a good time. How many quilts were made? That is yet to be seen, from this mysterious night they call Halloween! Debbie Egan is looking for a Co-Chair for the Comfort Quilt Committee for 2013.
